

Harold Willis Dodds Achievement Prize

An annual award, established in 1957, to be given to the senior who best embodies the high example set by Harold Willis Dodds during his tenure a fifteenth President of Princeton University; particularly in the qualities of clear thinking, moral courage, a patient and judicious regard for the opinion of others, and a thoroughgoing devotion to the welfare of the University and to the life of the mind.

Frederick Douglass Service Award

The Frederick Douglass Service Award, established in 1969 by the Association of Black Collegians, is awarded annually to a senior who has exhibited courage, leadership, intellectual achievement, and a willingness to contribute unselfishly towards a deeper understanding of the experiences of racial minorities, and who in so doing reflects the tradition of service embodied in education at Princeton.

Allen Macy Dulles '51 Award

The Allen Macy Dulles '51 Award, endowed by an alumnus of the Class of 1951, is conferred annually on Class Day. The award, which consists of a check and a certificate, has been created to honor Allen Macy Dulles '51, who, seriously injured in the Korean War, set an example of selflessness and courage that are the spirit of this prize. The official description is as follows:

The Allen Macy Dulles '51 Award is presented each year to the senior whose activities while a Princeton student best represent or exemplify Princeton in the nation's service and in the service of all nations.

Special consideration will be given to students who, in their service activities, have demonstrated courage, strength of character, and selflessness in overcoming obstacles and difficult circumstances.
